Developing Business & Personal Wealth

BIK & CO, LLP provides comprehensive support. Our professionals work with your banks and financial groups, handle financial reporting requirements, manage accounting and tax needs, and act as your advisor. We participate in the decision-making process so you are not on your own making difficult or mission critical financial choices. This service provides tremendous value to our clients.

Responsive, personalized client service sets us apart from the traditional CPA. For example, clients will use us to evaluate confidential and complex service issues, such as reviewing the sale or acquisition of a business to determine if the price and timing is right plus measuring the tax impact of the transaction. Our goal is to provide the best possible tax, financial, and business advice to help you grow.

We provide the reporting and advice needed to operate the business and accumulate personal wealth. The current stage of your business determines what type of service you need. A younger operation may need more assistance in forming and refining processes. The owner of a mature entity may require greater focus on succession and estate plans and preparation of an exit strategy.

Whatever your situation, our professionals can walk you through the process and provide the support and analysis needed. We like our clients to understand that we do financial reports for the banks, tax returns for the government, and advisory support for you.
